News and information for members of the Research Support Volunteers' Plan

We know that you're already a member of the Research Foundation's payroll & credit card contribution scheme "RSVP" – the Research Support Volunteers' Plan.

As you know your membership of RSVP allows you to make a direct, affordable contribution to the vital work of the Foundation through your pay, or by a small, regular deduction from your credit card account.

Of course all contributions are tax deductible, and the Foundation takes care of all the paper work to keep the scheme a simple, no-fuss way of helping. In fact you're about to receive your annual tax receipt letter for RSVP in the first fortnight of July – great to get that tax deduction!

As an added incentive to join, the Foundation has just launched a first-class competition through which one lucky member of RSVP will win a holiday on Queensland's Gold Coast, courtesy of our great friends at the Travel Inn Broadbeach Apartments. All members of RSVP as at 1 May 2010, or who join before Tuesday 7 December 2010, will be included in the draw.

ALSO – as a special bonus, as a current member of RSVP (or if you become one anytime up to December), and introduce a new friend or colleague, your name will go into an additional draw for a $500 shopping voucher – just in time for Christmas shopping.

Thankyou for your personal support of the great work of the Research Foundation in this modest way, and we encourage you to utilise the joining/ competition entry form enclosed to join up a friend – their contribution will really make a difference!
