Tasmanians get their colour on to raise money for local medical research

Australia's most colourful event, the Rainbow Colour Run, is coming to the Derwent Entertainment Centre for the first time on Sunday 8 February 2015.

The Rainbow Run is proudly supporting the work of the RHH Research Foundation and is looking to raise $20,000 for local health and medical research in Tasmania.

So what is the Rainbow Run? It's the ultimate run and party with colour for people, joggers, walkers of all ages, size, and speeds with fun, happiness, dance, party and throwing colour the focus!

More information is available at <http://www.rainbowmyrun.com.au/hobart>
Tickets on sale now.

We invite media to join us prior to the event day to launch this exciting new event.
11.00am Thursday 22 January 2015, Derwent Entertainment Centre.

Photo/footage opportunity: School-aged children dressed in white will have some fun throwing colour at each other. An interview is also available with Anthony Marchesani of Rainbow Colour Run Australia.
