MEDIA RELEASE

Big December Breakfast heralds the festive season with guest entertainer Tom Burlinson

The scene is set for the RHH Research Foundation's much anticipated Searson Buck Big December Breakfast. With support from our sponsors Searson Buck, Audio Clinic Tasmania and DJ Motors, proceeds from the breakfast will help us reach our goal in contributing over $600,000 for critical local health and medical research in 2016.

The RHH Research Foundation is thrilled to feature iconic Australian Tom Burlinson who is a highly accomplished actor, singer, TV host and theatrical producer. Many would recall Tom's famous role in the original The Man from Snowy River movie. Tom is now well recognised as a wonderful entertainer and recently visited Hobart on his Frank Sinatra Tour 'Frank - A Life In Song'. We can't wait to welcome Tom to Hobart once again for our final event for 2015.

Along with being entertained by Tom, guests are looking forward to having lots of fun on the day with Christmas carols by the Tasmanian Chorale and over $3,000 in prize giveaways! Most importantly, all proceeds will be invested in supporting local clinicians to undertake vital research that assists the health and wellbeing of all Tasmanians.

The RHH Research Foundation would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank all supporters and donors for their contributions throughout the year. The generous support of individuals and local organisations from across the community enables the RHH Research Foundation to continue its investment in annual research grants which, since inception in 1997, have now totalled over $6m.
